Blood donation refers to a practice where people donate their blood to people so it helps them with their health problems. Blood is one of the most essential fluids of our body that helps in the smooth functioning of our body. Thus, blood donation is life-saving which helps people. It is also a sign of humanity that unites people. Blood donation has a lot of benefits. A person requires blood for various reasons. It may be an illness or also an accident, nonetheless, it is important. The blood that we donate helps a person in need. It enhances their health condition and makes them overcome their critical situation. Blood donation does not simply help that specific person but also contributes to a responsible gesture towards society. Moreover, it also enhances the health of the donor. It also revitalizes our body for better health.

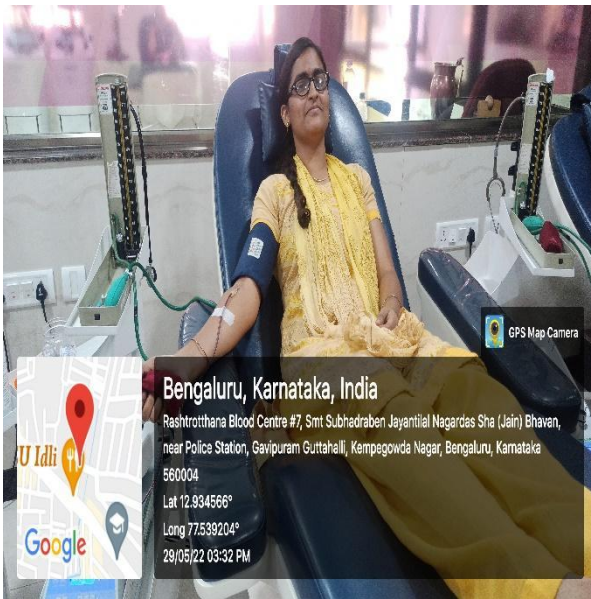

We, the students of 6th semester, Department of Biotechnology, The Oxford College of Engineering, in association with Youth for Parivarthan had volunteered for donating our bloods at the Rashtrathana Blood centre, Gavipuram. The blood collected at the centre is used to treat Thalassemia patients. We also had an awareness session on Thalassemia and the pre-requisites for donating blood.

Report on community outreach programme – A visit to National association for the blind school in Jeevan Bima Nagar on 1st November, 2022.

A community outreach program on “A visit to blind school” was organised by the 5th semester students of the Department of Biotechnology on 1st November, 2022 in association with the National Service Scheme unit, TOCE organization at Jeevan Bima Nagar.

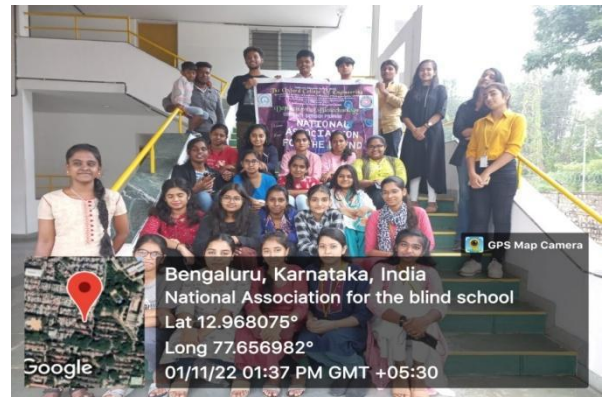

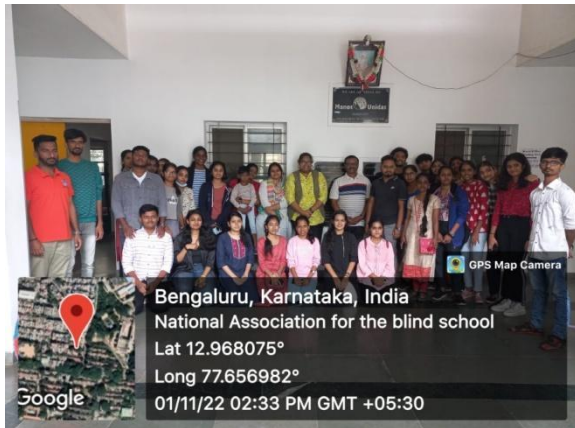

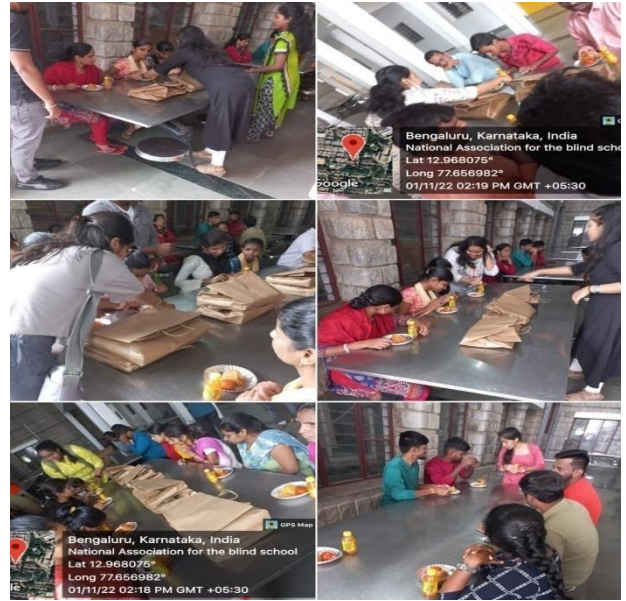

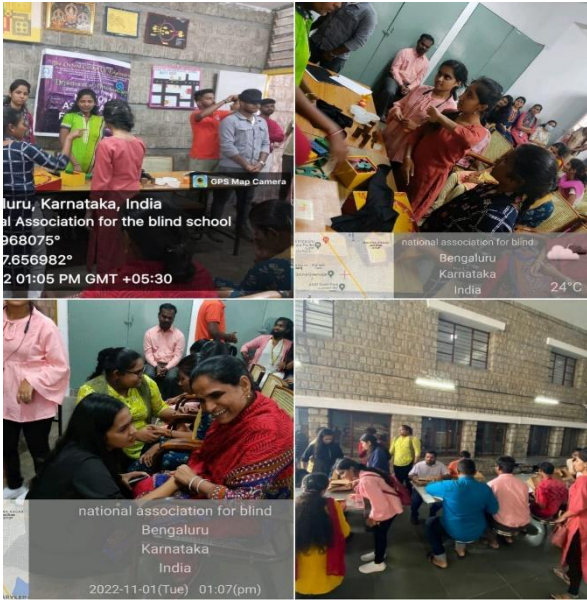

The objectives of the outreach program were to spend quality time with the students in the blind school and interact with them. As a part of our interactions, we were explained the basic signs and signals they follow in order to communicate with others, especially while crossing roads. They also showed us the instruments which volunteers use to show the route maps.

We also got a chance to see all the amazing talents they had, which includes singing, depicting the accurate time and quick mathematical calculations. We were also briefed about their daily routine and the tasks assigned to them of which one of them is, telling them the route map and asking them to go to the shop and come back alone. We were shown the way they walk and check for obstructions. Two of us were asked to try to walk with blind folds same as the way they walk, which clearly showed us that we cannot walk as confidently as they do.

All the students there were graduates of which few are teaching online, few are pursuing higher studies, few learning courses, trying for jobs and few were working. It was so inspiring to see them dream big and achieving their goals. Seeing them climbing the stairs, assembling at the dining area, and doing prayers just showcases their confidence. It will be amazing if all of us have the same level of confidence and positivity.

After the interactions and spending quantitative time with them, food kits, fruits, snacks, and essential kits were distributed to all of them. They all were very happy interacting with us and we were all very satisfied visiting this place as we got a chance to interact with such kind hearted and talented people.

National Service Scheme BLOOD DONATIONS CAMP

10th January 2023

The NSS unit of The Oxford College of Engineering has undertaken program under regular and special camping activities as per guidelines issued by Visvesvaraya Technological University from time to time. In this regard our NSS Unit, Department of Physical Education has organised Voluntary Blood Donations camp in collaboration with Narayana Hrudayala Blood Centre, The Oxford Medical College & Research Centre, Bangalore.

The National Service Scheme (NSS) was organized a blood donation camp in the college premises on Tuesday, 12th January 2023. Dr. Vijayakumari , Dean- Academics of our college, inaugurated the camp, on this occasion our Director and Principal congratulated the NSS coordinators and students volunteers for coming forward to organize this event. Our NSS Unit, Department of Physical Education has organised Voluntary Blood Donations camp in collaboration with Narayana Hrudayala Blood Centre, The Oxford Medical College & Research Centre, Bangalore. It began at around 10 am and continued up to 4.30 pm, with a steady stream of donors throughout.

In the college premises (7th Floor New Building , MBA Block) the arrangements were made for the donors like registration counter, beds, sanitations, counseling and medical check-up of potential donors. A team of doctors and nurses had reached in time. The donors were provided with glucose water and food including biscuits, a banana and a juice. It was great to see more people than pre-registration numbers turning up in the venue.

BLOOD DONATION DRIVE ON 12.01.2023

Blood donation is a divine act of giving life. NSS motivational act has encouraged many to join hands with us as donors. 300 persons includes students, Teaching & Non-Teaching staff have participated and 250 Units of Blood has donated in this camp. Doctors, NSS Co-ordinator expressed their thanks to Volunteers and Donors for their contribution in the Blood donation Drive.

World Health Day is celebrated on the as a global initiative that aims to raise awareness and promote healthcare issues affecting communities worldwide. This year's theme is "Health for All" and is the same day World Health Organisation (WHO) was founded in 1948.

The reason for the importance of World Health Day: it is an opportunity for all to introspect their own health. The theme of World Health Day 2023 will focus on shining a spotlight on the invaluable contributions of nurses and midwives, who make up a tireless and dedicated workforce that has played a significant role in revolutionizing the healthcare industry as we know it today.

The theme is Health for All: Everyone, Everywhere.

On this occasion Dr. Savitha A N., Professor Department of Periodontology, The Oxford Dental College highlighted as a priority basis the importance of physical, mental and oral health among the student community.

PARYATAN

AWESOME ASSAM

Assam is a north-eastern state of India known for its diverse culture, natural beauty, and rich history. It shares its borders with six other states of India, including Arunachal Pradesh, Nagaland, Manipur, Mizoram, Meghalaya, and West Bengal. Assam's capital city is Dispur, and its largest city is Guwahati.

The experience was so overwhelming to visit the Awesome Assam. As the tourism tagline of Assam states “Awesome Assam”, not doubt Assam is Awesome. As the word Paryatan means Tourism there are numerous attractive tourist places to visit in Assam.

Assam is a land of breath-taking natural beauty, with lush forests, rolling hills, and winding rivers. Its diverse and vibrant culture is reflected in its colourful festivals, delicious cuisine, and unique handicrafts. From the majestic Brahmaputra River to the stunning tea plantations and national parks, Assam is a feast for the senses and a paradise for nature lovers.

Out the numerous places we went to few Well Known Places in Assam which are mentioned:

KHAMAKYA TEMPLE:

FIG: MAA KHAMAKYA TEMPLE

Maa Kamakhya Temple is a revered Hindu temple situated in Guwahati, the largest city of the Indian state of Assam. The temple is dedicated to Goddess Kamakhya, who is worshipped as the goddess of fertility, power, and desire. The temple complex comprises several shrines and temples, and is located on the Nilachal Hill, which offers stunning views of the Brahmaputra River and the city below. The temple is also known for its unique architecture and intricate carvings, and is a popular pilgrimage site for devotees from all over India. The annual Ambubachi Mela, a festival celebrating the goddess's fertility, is held at the temple and attracts thousands of devotees every year.

UMANANDA TEMPLE:

Umananda Devaloi is a Shiva temple located at the Umananda Island in the middle of river Brahmaputra just opposite the office of the Deputy Commissioner of Kamrup or the Kachari Ghat in Guwahati. It is known as the smallest inhabited riverine island in the world.

INDO-BHUTAN BORDER

The Bhutan–India border is the open international border separating the Kingdom of Bhutan from the Republic of India. The border is 699 km long, and adjoins the Indian states of Assam.

RAJ BHAVAN

We had an interactive session with Governor of Assam Shri Gulab Chand Kataria who was recently he has been a Governor. We had an interaction about the policies which are undertaken to develop Assam and North-East states of India, Education system to improve the literacy rate, etc.

SUALKUCHI

The Muga silk saree

Sualkuchi is a town located in the Kamrup district of the state of Assam in north-eastern India. It is known as the "Silk Village" of Assam, as it is famous for producing exquisite silk textiles. Sualkuchi is situated on the banks of the Brahmaputra River, and its silk industry has been thriving for centuries.

The silk produced in Sualkuchi is known as "Muga silk", which is a unique variety of silk found only in Assam. Muga silk is known for its durability and lustrous golden colour, and it is considered one of the finest silks in the world. The silk is produced by silkworms that feed on the leaves of the Som and Soalu trees, which are found only in Assam.

The weavers of Sualkuchi are skilled artisans who use traditional handloom techniques to create beautiful silk fabrics. The town has a rich cultural heritage, and the silk industry has played a significant role in shaping its history and identity. Sualkuchi is also home to several temples and other cultural landmarks, which are popular tourist attractions.

In recent years, the government of Assam has taken several initiatives to promote the silk industry in Sualkuchi and support the livelihoods of the weavers. The town has been designated as a "Silk Mark" village, which ensures that the silk produced here is of the highest quality and authentic. Sualkuchi is a unique and culturally rich town that is an important part of Assam's heritage and identity.

PARAMPARA

As the name suggest Parampara means Traditions. The roots of culture in Assam goes back almost five thousand years when the first wave of humans, the Austroasiatic people reached the Brahmaputra valley. They mixed with the later immigrant Tibeto-Burman and the IndoAryan peoples in prehistoric times. The last wave of migration wasthat of the Tai/Shan who later formed the idea of Assamese culture and its identity. The Ahoms, later on, brought some more Indo-Aryans like the Assamese Brahmins and Ganaks and Assamese Kayasthas to Assam.

Assam the heart of the north eastern part of India that boasts a rich and diverse culture. As a student studying the state, I was fascinated by the people, local cult and culture, Bihu dance, and local cuisine.

Assam is home to a diverse group of people, with different ethnic groups and communities living together in harmony. The majority of people in Assam are Assamese, who are known for their warm hospitality and welcoming nature. The state has a large number of tribes, each unique in its tradition, culture, dress and exotic way of life.

BIHU:

Bihu is the most important festival in Assam and is celebrated three times a year - in January (Magh Bihu), April (Rongali Bihu), and October (Kati Bihu). It is a harvest festival, and people dance and sing traditional Bihu songs, wear colourful clothes, and enjoy feasts.

LOCAL CUISINE:

Assamese cuisine is known for its simplicity and use of local ingredients. Rice is a staple food, and fish and meat dishes are also popular. Some famous Assamese dishes include fish tenga (sour fish curry), xaak aru bhaji (vegetables and herbs), and pitha (rice cakes).

Til Pitha

PRAGATI

Assam has seen significant development in recent years in various sectors such as infrastructure, education, healthcare, agriculture, and tourism. Here are some of the major developments in these sectors

Infrastructure: Assam has seen a significant improvement in its infrastructure in recent years, with the construction of new highways, bridges, airports, and railway lines. The state government has also initiated several projects to improve the urban infrastructure, including the Smart City Mission, which aims to develop cities with modern amenities and efficient services.

Education: The state government has launched several initiatives to improve the quality of education in Assam. These include the Gunotsav program, which aims to evaluate and improve the quality of education in primary schools, and the Chief Minister's Samagra Gramya Unnayan Yojana, which aims to provide quality education to children in rural areas.

Healthcare: The state government has launched several healthcare initiatives, including the Atal Amrit Abhiyan, which provides free medical treatment to families with an annual income of less than Rs. 5 lakhs. The government has also set up several new medical colleges and hospitals to improve the healthcare infrastructure in the state.

Agriculture: Assam is primarily an agrarian state, and the government has initiated several projects to improve the agricultural sector. These include the Chief Minister's Samagra Gramya Unnayan Yojana, which aims to develop agro-based industries in rural areas, and the Krishi Samridhi Yojana, which aims to provide financial assistance to farmers.

PRODYOGIK

Information Technology: The state government has been working towards promoting IT industries in the state, and as a result, many IT parks and centers have been set up in Guwahati, the capital city of Assam. This has led to the growth of the IT sector, and many IT companies have started setting up their offices in the state.

Agriculture: Assam is primarily an agrarian state, and there have been several technological developments in the agriculture sector. For example, precision agriculture, which involves the use of sensors, drones, and other technologies to optimize farming, has gained popularity in the state. This has helped farmers increase their yield and reduce costs.

Startup ecosystem: The state government has launched several initiatives to promote startups in Assam. The Assam Startup initiative provides funding, mentoring, and other support to startups in the state. The state government has also set up a startup incubation center in Guwahati to help new businesses get off the ground.

Digital infrastructure: The state government has invested in the development of digital infrastructure in the state. The National Optical Fibre Network (NOFN) project has connected over 6,000 villages in the state to high-speed internet. The state government has also launched the Assam Fibre Net Limited project to provide high-speed internet connectivity to government offices, schools, and hospitals in the state.

PARASAPAR SAMPARK

This was the good part of the trip which let us to interact with the local people of Assam. This is what Paraspar Sampark talks about the interaction people to people. In order to exchange the culture, diversity of living and many more other things.

In the midst of this trip, I learnt how simple living they have adapted throughout their life. The people of Assam treated us so well. And we learnt few sentences to speak in Assamese and also taught some Kannada Sentences to them which was quite fun. Also, we tried dancing the Bihu and they we taught our Huli Kunita as our part of culture exchange.

BLOOD DONATION CAMP FOR THALASSEMIA PATIENTS

Activity name: Blood donation and awareness camp.

Date: 9/10/2022

Location: Makkala Koot Park, Chamarajpet, Bangalore.

Activity's main aim was to conduct the blood donation camp and awareness about the thalassemia patients.

Thalassemia (thal-uh-SEE-me-uh) is an inherited blood disorder that causes your body to have less hemoglobin than normal. Hemoglobin enables red blood cells to carry oxygen. Thalassemia can cause anemia, leaving you fatigued.

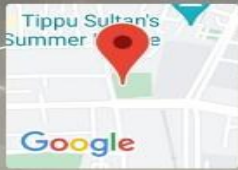

If you have mild thalassemia, you might not need treatment. But more severe forms might require regular blood transfusions. You can take steps to cope with fatigue, such as choosing a healthy diet and exercising regularly.

Symptoms:-

There are several types of thalassemia. The signs and symptoms you have depend on the type and severity of your condition.

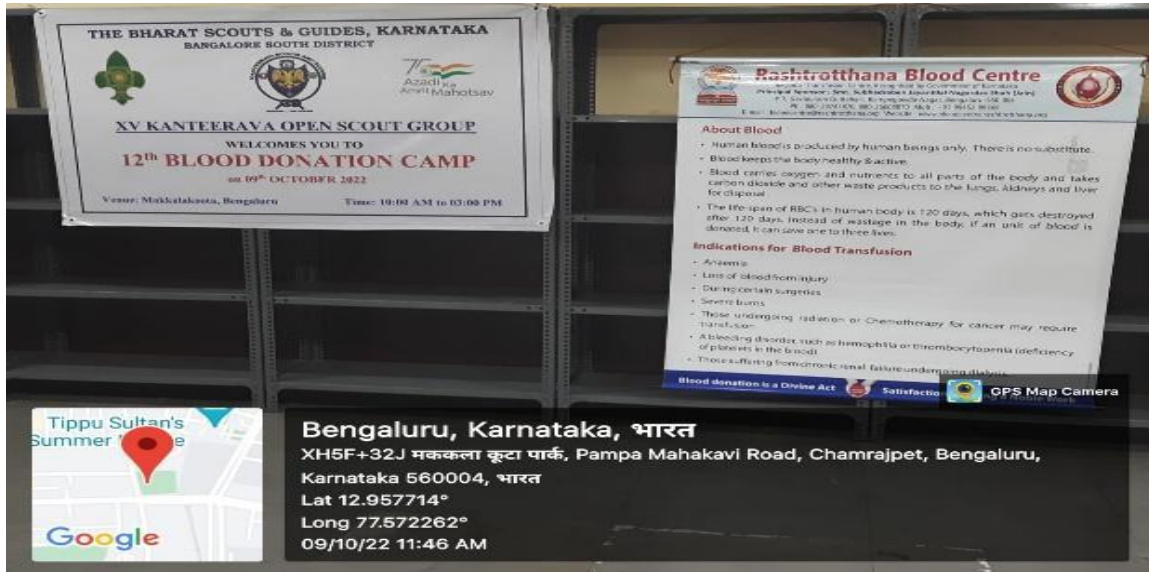

Thalassemia signs and symptoms can include:

- Fatigue
- Weakness
- Pale or yellowish skin
- Facial bone deformities
- Slow growth
- Abdominal swelling
- Dark urine
